

MISSING IN COLLISION AT SEA

THE OGDEN Standard-Examiner

OGDEN CITY, UTAH, MONDAY EVENING, MAY 22, 1922

MORE LATE NEWS.

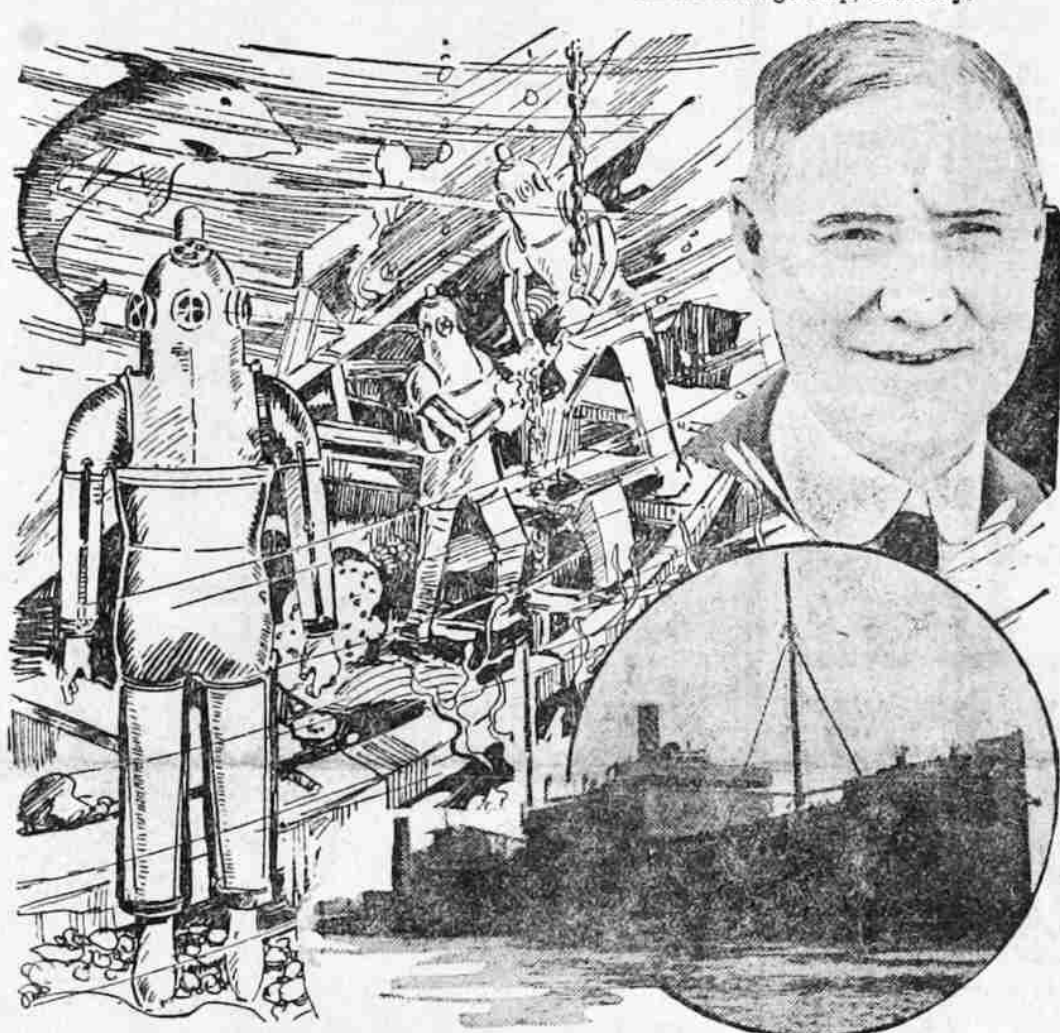

Residents of northern Utah and southern Idaho: The Standard-Examiner is more than one hour (train time) nearer to you than other complete Utah newspapers. That means more last-minute news reaches you via the Ogden newspaper.

LAST EDITION—4 P. M.

YEAR FIST FIGHT STIRS SENATE

WARING DIVER SEEKS LUSITANIA GOLD

Captain Benjamin Franklin Leavitt and the bronze diving suit he designed especially to salvage treasure from the Lusitania and other ships in water too deep for ordinary diving apparatus. The armor (shown at left) is self-contained, four-hours supply of pure air being manufactured within it and automatically discharged as fast as used. Leavitt is shown with his salvage ship, Blakeley.

TWO VESSELS CRASH IN FOG NEAR FRANCE

American Missionaries Among Passengers Missing After Wreck

SINKS IN 20 MINUTES

Hope Is Felt Some of Shipwrecked Persons Are Picked Up

BREST, May 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Ninety-eight persons are missing and 242 were saved of those who were on board the British steamship Egypt when it was sunk off the island of Ushant Saturday night by a collision with the French steamer Seine, according to the latest official figures.

Among those missing are two American women, Mrs. M. L. Sibley and Miss V. M. Boyer, whose home addresses are unknown here. It is possible that some of the missing, in addition to those brought here may have been picked up by the steamship Cap Itacon.

SHIP NINE MILES AWAY
The Cap Itacon was nine miles from the scene, and replied to the distress signals with the assurance that she was speeding to the spot.

According to the Egypt's purser the ship floated only about 20 minutes after her plates were crushed in by the Seine. The Egypt, he declared, was not moving at the time of the accident lying to on account of the dense fog and sounding her siren continuously.

Mrs. Sibley and Miss Boyer were missionaries on the way to India. The Egypt went down in 400 feet of water. She carried $300,000 in gold, besides a consignment of mail for India. So far one mail pouch has been picked up, but nothing else except the wreckage from the crash was found on the surface.

The ship's officers did not even save the vessel's papers.

It is not questioned by most of the survivors, however, that many of the 300 odd persons aboard were thrown into the sea or jumped from the sinking ship when they were unable to obtain places in the few lifeboats that were lowered.

ONE WAS TEACHER
BOSTON, Mass., May 22.—Mrs. M. L. Sibley and Miss V. M. Boyer were missionaries bound for India who had been in this city recently. Mrs. Sibley, of the staff of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, has relatives in Toledo, O. Miss Boyer, who formerly made her home at Aspinwall, Pa., was going out as a teacher in a school for orphan children and others in south India.

Passengers said the ropes at the end of one of the life boats broke as it was being lowered after the collision, dumping all those in it into the sea. Then the ropes at the other end broke, the lifeboat falling on those who had counted upon it for escape.

PRINTER IS HERO
Several of the Egypt's officers when they saw it was impossible to launch more of the boats, cut the ropes of those that had not been launched, in the hope the craft would right itself in the sea and be of some service to the struggling survivors.

The ship's printer, named Genner, gave his life to save a woman, survivors say.

Genner, who left a wife and child at home, put his life on the line for the collision and was about to jump into the sea when he saw a woman running up and down the bridge begging for help. Genner put his life belt about her and said:

"Madame, I do not know how to swim, but take it anyway."

Genner was drowned.

ANXIOUS TIMES IN FRENCH PARLIAMENT

PARIS, May 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The French parliament will reconvene tomorrow in an atmosphere of anxiety due chiefly to the prospective use of military force to bring pressure on Germany but augmented by the Russo-German treaty and other complications growing out of the Geneva conference.

Expiration of the time given Germany to accept the reparations commission's conditions is only one week off, but there will be no immediate action, since Premier Poincare, although determined to go ahead alone if necessary, will take time to induce the allies to join him if he can.

The cabinet is regarded by the best posted members in parliament as sure of a big majority in approval of its policy of energetic action.

Some apprehension is felt lest the situation make more acute the difficulty which has arisen in the entente.

CRIPPLED LAD WINS CHANCE TO SHOW HEROISM

BERKELEY, Cal., May 22.—Childhood dreams of the chance to display physical bravery, a chance denied him by deformity by birth, became reality Sunday for Charles Arkenstall, 14 years old. The boy limped into the path of a runaway horse, seized the bridle and clung to it until the frightened animal stopped, a block further. Two women and two children in the buggy were uninjured. Arkenstall's ankle was broken.

SIR JAMES CRAIG CALLS FOR REVENGE

Killing of Ulster Parliament Member Arouses Great Furore

BELFAST, May 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The killing today of W. J. Twaddle, a member of the Ulster parliament, caused the issuance of a manifesto by Sir James Craig, the premier, announcing a special meeting of the cabinet and the legal authorities.

The premier declared "just retribution" was called for.

The manifesto, in Twaddle's said: "Manifestation of this terrible crime fills me with such indignation that I have summoned a special meeting of the cabinet and all the authorities dealing with law and order. Such an act as this murder demands just retribution."

Mr. Twaddle was proceeding to business when he was struck by several shots. A woman was also wounded by the bullet.

He is the first member of parliament to be attacked in the history of Belfast's disorders.

TROUBLE SHIFTED
The most disquieting feature of Sunday's disorder in Belfast was the shifting of the center of trouble to Bullinacree, the east end section where there is a large artisan population and a small compact Sinn Fein community living in an area called the Short Strand.

Two men were killed in the violent rioting there and Thomas McShane, who was wounded Saturday, died, bringing the total of deaths over the week-end to 14.

During last night's shooting gunmen opened fire on the city electric station, but the return fire from police and troops caused the assailants to withdraw.

REPTURE FEARED
The dying column for Saturday's raids in counties Antrim and Down vanished as quickly as it came, but a renewal of its operations is anticipated.

The Ulster cabinet has given no sign of what measures it contemplates to suppress the disorders, but it is assumed nothing will be done in tomorrow's meeting of the northern parliament when Premier Sir James Craig will outline his plans.

A rupture with the Dublin government is feared in quarters well informed.

MANIFESTO ISSUED
The dying column for Saturday's murders was Mr. Twaddle was murdered for his loyalty to the empire and his devotion to the cause of Ulster and the welfare of the country. His colleagues, it was declared, will carry on and face the future, no matter what the future might hold for them.

"Justice and retribution rest with the higher authorities," the manifesto adds. "Let the people rally around the established government which will see that proper measures were taken without plunging our province or our capital into a welter of crime and bloodshed."

As a tribute to Mr. Twaddle's memory the premier said the people of Belfast and the six counties would observe today and tonight with special reverence.

MEET ANY CRISIS
"I will deal with the whole matter when the parliament meets tomorrow."

(Continued on Page Two.)

GEORGIAN AND COLORADO MAN EXCITE GROUP

Senator Watson Said He Threatened to Knock Phipps Down

CROWD LOOKS ON

Dispute Results From Debate Over Postmaster Nominations

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Postmaster appointments in Georgia started a hot exchange in the senate today by Senator Watson, Democrat of Georgia, and Senator Phipps of Colorado, a Republican member of the postoffice committee, with the result that business was disrupted for several minutes after which the two senators took their controversy into the corridor, with the Georgia senator offering personal combat.

THREATENED KNOCKDOWN
"If you say a word out of the way I'll knock you down," Senator Watson said he told the Colorado senator after they left the senate chamber. Senator Phipps declined to see newspaper men to discuss the incident.

Senator Watson, talking of the dispute, which began while the senate was discussing an arm bill, said Senator Phipps declined the challenge to personal combat, mentioned calling a senate sergeant-at-arms, and then walked away.

The Georgia senator explained that the dispute involved three postmaster nominations to Jack Curran to be postmaster at Savannah, Ga.; J. E. Crane at Dixie, Ga., and Lamson Pritchard at Tennessee, Ga. All are "personally objectionable" to him, Senator Watson said, and he notified Senator Phipps.

RECEIVES LETTERS
Mr. Watson stated that Chairman Townsend of the postoffice committee had allowed him to name a substitute to consider the three nominations and that he, Mr. Watson, had chosen Phipps on the subcommittee. Senator Phipps since has been in correspondence with the nominees, although Senator Watson said he himself had received no letters from them.

Last Saturday, Senator Watson said, Mr. Phipps gave him some of the correspondence and asked him to look over the papers. Today Senator Watson said he went to Senator Phipps and told him that he would not examine the papers and demanded to know whether his opposition to the three nominees who were "personally objectionable" was to be recognized, as is the senatorial custom.

MANY SEE CLASH
A number of persons in the senate corridors witnessed the clash between the senators, being attracted apparently by the loud discussion which broke into a speech on the floor by Senator Braden, Republican, New York, before the senators went out.

Senator Watson said he proposed to prevent confirmation of the three nominees, all of whom, he said, had made derogatory statements about him.

NEW WAY TO CHEAT BUYERS OF POULTRY

NEW YORK, May 22.—The public saved $40,000 over the week-end because inspectors of the health department refused to allow the sale of chickens whose crops were filled with sand and gravel. Or Salth, director of the food and drug bureau of the department, declared one of the crops weighed one and one-half pounds.

THIS MORNING A WANT AD USER SAID:

"I advertised aster plants for sale in The Saturday Standard-Examiner want ad columns and I was busy until 10 o'clock Saturday night booking orders by phone."

Just another evidence that the want ad pages are being carefully read each day.

Try a want ad for your short cut to find a buyer for those odds and ends that you have for sale.

JURY IN BURCH MURDER TRIAL IS DISCHARGED

Final Ballot, 7 to 5 for Acquittal, Unchanged Since Saturday

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 22.—The jury in the trial of Arthur C. Burch for the murder of J. Belmont Kennedy, was discharged by Judge Sidney N. Reeve, today after reporting it was impossible to agree upon a verdict.

Jurors said that the final ballot was 7 to 5 for acquittal. This division was unchanged since Saturday when the first ballot of six to six was changed by one more juror swinging to favor acquittal. The four women on the jury voted for acquittal. The case was placed on the calendar for next Saturday to be set for a third trial.

After adjournment the four women jurors gathered about the Reeve and Mrs. W. A. Burch, parents of the defendant, and shook hands with them. One of the women jurors said to Mrs. Burch:

"We all feel very sorry for you."

Depot District Attorney Lee Keyes, who conducted the prosecution, said: "There will undoubtedly be another trial of Burch."

He went to his office and had a conference with J. D. Kennedy, father of the slain man, and Henry Walz, foreman of the jury. Walz told newspapermen he had voted for conviction. The second trial of Mrs. Madeline Obenchain, jointly indicted with Burch, is set for June 5 next.

This was the third trial in connection with the Kennedy slaying. The first Burch jury stood 19 to 2 for conviction and the Obenchain jury 9 to 3 for conviction.

TOWNLEY FURNISHES BOND IN BANK CASE

FARGO, N. D., May 22.—(By The Associated Press)—A. C. Townley, former president of the National Non-Partisan league, gave bonds of $12,000 in Cass county district court here today in connection with six indictments against him, returned by the recent grand jury which investigated affairs of the defunct Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo.

H. A. Paddock, Minneapolis, former secretary of the North Dakota industrial commission, gave bond of $5,000 in connection with one indictment charging false entry. This also deals with relations between the Scandinavian-American bank and the Consumer United States.

BULLETINS!

YAKIMA, Wash., May 22.—Eleven Republican editors of Yakima valley newspapers at a conference here, have decided to telegraph President Harding and the Washington congressional delegation, that unless the Smith-McNary bill is passed "they will no longer consider themselves either by reason of past affiliations or the party's future promise, be bound to continue support of the national Republican party."

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—The new ocean schooner Virginia Olson was rammed by the navy submarine H-7 in a dense fog off the breakwater outside the harbor here today and racing at full speed with a hole in the bow, sank just after reaching the K. K. Wood dock in the harbor here. The Virginia Olson was inbound from Portland, Ore., with 1,200,000 feet of lumber.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Had the Russian soviet representatives at Geneva accepted the allied proposals, Russia would have been reduced to a situation not dissimilar to that of Haiti, Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, declared today in the senate in discussing Frank A. Vandenberg's recently published interview of events at the Geneva conference.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—According to a tabulation of latest returns from 18 complete and 18 incomplete counties of the state at 11:15 o'clock today, Charles Hall of Marshfield had taken the lead in the race for the Republican nomination for governor. The figures were: Hall, 42,325; Ben W. Olcott, 42,216, a lead for Hall of 79.

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—Preparations for the preliminary hearing of Rodolph Valentino, motion picture actor charged with bigamy, were under way today.

The hearing is set for June 1 and members of the district attorney's office staff assigned to the case said they expected this would be the beginning of a long legal battle to establish whether the actor's marriage on May 13 to Miss Winifred Hudnut at Mexicali, Lower California, came within the meaning of California statutes covering bigamy.

SALT LAKE, May 22.—Frank P. Kelsey, of New Harmony, Utah, is under arrest at St. George, charged with attempting to kill the family of Francis Prince. He appeared before Justice Ellis J. Pickett and was bound over to the district court on a $6000 bond. He is alleged to have caused poison to be placed in a can of coffee. The members of the family tactfully thereof to cause death.

MOTHER WITH BABY SON IN ARMS KILLED

Much Property Damage Results From Storm in South Western States

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 22.—Many districts of the southwest today were recovering from severe wind, hail and rain storms last night which resulted in the death of at least one person, injuries of several others, and much property damage.

At Shawnee, Okla., Mrs. Marvia Kilman, who with a young son in her arms had taken refuge from a storm in the entrance to an old theatre building, was killed and the child injured when the building was wrecked. A man, also in the building, was injured. Several other buildings were wrecked there, it was reported.

Two women were reported killed at Okemore, Okla.

Many basements were flooded here and several persons slightly injured by high wind and rain in Oklahoma City. In Tulsa, Okla., hundreds of trees were blown down, scores of plate glass windows were smashed and telephone and street car service temporarily paralyzed by the wind and rain that swept that section last night.

Reports state that a severe storm hit Winfield, Kan., doing much property damage. Other points in the southwest reported heavy rainfall with some high wind.

BLUE LAWS REMAIN THOUGH VOTED DOWN

VICTORY, B. C., May 22.—The police commission has refused to revoke its order for the strict enforcement of the Lord's day act in Victoria. Although the anti-blue Sunday league was armed with documents showing that the voters had gone on record by a seven-to-one vote last week against closing stores on Sunday, as provided in the act, Mayor Marchant and Commissioner Stenland remained firm in their determination to enforce the law.

NEW LAW REQUIRES VACATION WITH PAY

WARSAW, May 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The Polish diet has enacted a law requiring an annual vacation of two weeks with pay for all industrial workers.